President's Message

I want to apologize to the members that did not receive a notice about the June meeting. There was a problem with the email at the Society's headquarters. They assured me that the problem is corrected. I am sending this email early this month because I am nervous about waiting until the last minute. New presidents tend to get nervous when things don't go according to plan. I plan to send this notice again the week of July 23 to make sure everyone is aware of our July meeting.

The attendance was good in June even though many members did not receive notice of the meeting. Thank you for calling in and asking about the June meeting and thanks to everyone that attended the meeting. We had a good time telling humorous stories and discussing plans for the next year.

The July meeting is scheduled for July 31 because of scheduling problems on July 24.

Our speaker for July will be Sam Johnson, Jr., a member of the State Board of Accountancy. His father was president of the GSCPA. He will bring us up to date on state legal requirements and issues of CPAs. Please make plans to attend.

The next meeting will be a combined meeting with the Gwinnett Chapter at their location on August 21, 2007. We will provide directions in the next newsletter.

Jim Warren
