President's Message

Well, somehow I blinked and it is already September. School is back in session, traffic stinks again, and it remains brutally hot. My Braves are slipping and the Falcons season has ended before it even begun. So, what now? No question...college football. As I do every year, I hold out great hope that my beloved Georgia Bulldogs will win a national championship. Well, at the very least, a SEC championship.

For those of us in public practice (and for those who have not gotten around to filing their own returns,) another September 15 and October 15 deadline is upon us. Heck, they already have Christmas items for sale at the retail stores and I thought it was too early to think about Halloween.

So, I guess before we know it, it will be December and it is a reporting year. The good news...we have some great CPE planned in the upcoming months and we promise to sprinkle in plenty of the beloved A&A.

This month is lunch at Maggiano's Perimeter. Although not A&A, we know one thing for sure - the food will be good and filling.
