Understanding the latest regulatory and governmental changes is vital for not-for-profit organizations during this transitional time. At the 2018 Not-for-Profit Conference, local and national leaders will discuss how recent legislation will affect not-for-profits in a variety of areas.

Discussion will center around big data and cognitive computing from the perspective of philanthropy. In addition, single audit and uniform guidance, FASB standards with lessons from early adopters, reporting changes, and Form 990 in the shifting landscape will be covered.

Who Should Attend: CPAs in public and corporate accounting, consultants, tax advisors, auditors and other financial managers who work for not-for-profit organizations or who have not-for-profit clients.
